In The Complete Persepolis , both of these pieces of work by Beauvoir are mentioned. On page 175 panel 4, Marjane's mother is illustrated reading The Mandarines , and with this she can be seen embodying Simone De Beauvoir's ideals. In previous chapters her mother is displayed as an intellectual, while other times she is protesting against the state, so from this, Taigi is obviously not a normal Iranian woman. Persepolis is an autobiographical series of bande dessin es (French comics) by Marjane Satrapi that depicts her childhood up to her early adult years in Iran and Austria during and after the Islamic Revolution. The complete Persepolis. by Satrapi, Marjane, 1969-. Comic/Graphic Novel. Persepolis is the story of Marjane Satrapi's childhood and coming of age within a large and loving family in Tehran during the Islamic Revolution; of the contradictions between private life and public life in a country plagued by political upheaval; of her high school years in Vienna facing the trials. Later, The Complete Persepolis put the whole story in one convenient paperback volume to celebrate the release of the film. That's right: film. Persepolis was made into an animated film in 2007. Persepolis shows us the danger of letting the opinions of very few dictate the behavior of many. On top of that is the fact that everyone has a story, and not everyone in a country is exactly the same. Persepolis Resources.
