Let us know what's wrong with this preview of Thinking Architecture by Peter Zumthor. Problem: It's the wrong book It's the wrong edition Other. In the first lecture of his book "Thinking Architecture," Peter Zumthor, the notable Swiss architect, gave us a glimpse of his way of thinking about architecture. He vouched that Architecture is a form of art, just like music or painting. Projects shouldn't be only limited to the logical and analytical part of thinking. It should expand outside of the zone where feelings and emotions are present; they play a key role in our architecture experience. 1. Architecture of Our Past and Experiences. Thinking Architecture.
