Degrees Offered

Master of Arts, Master of Fine Arts, and Doctor of Philosophy

Special Departmental Requirements

(See also general University Graduate School requirements.)

Admission Requirements

Undergraduate major or its equivalent. Graduate Record Examination, both the General Test and the Subject Test in English Literature. A potentially superior student who has not majored in English may be admitted conditionally, but must remove deficiencies without graduate credit. Students who wish to be admitted for the M.A./Ph.D., M.A., or M.F.A. in Creative Writing must submit samples of their work.

Foreign Language Requirements

For the M.A.T. and M.F.A. degrees, none. For the M.A., reading proficiency in one of the following: French, German, Greek, Italian, Latin, Russian, Spanish. For the Ph.D., either (a) reading proficiency in two languages (one will be French, German, or Latin; the second will be a language from the M.A. list or, by approval of the director of graduate studies, another foreign language or courses in computer science), or (b) proficiency in depth in one language.

Language requirements should be met as soon after beginning graduate work as possible. A student is expected to be working on fulfilling the proficiency requirements every semester until they are completed.

Combined B.A. and M.A.

Candidates for a combined degree must fulfill all requirements for the M.A. (including the language requirement), as well as general and major requirements for the B.A. in English. Upon completion of the 116 credits, including fulfillment of requirements for the English major, students with a minimum GPA of 3.5 overall and 3.7 in English may apply for conditional admission to the graduate program their senior year, which may be counted toward the completion of the M.A. degree in a fifth year of study. (At the discretion of the director of graduate studies, an otherwise qualified student who is still completing an honors thesis may apply for conditional admission.) No courses used to satisfy the B.A. requirements may be applied toward the M.A. The Graduate Record Examination, both General Test and Subject Test in English Literature, is required and must be taken before admission is completed following the final semester of undergraduate study.

Grades

M.A. students must maintain a 3.0 (B) grade point average; M.F.A. and Ph.D. students, a 3.5 grade point average. Admission to the Ph.D. normally requires a 3.7 grade point average and the recommendations of graduate faculty.

Master's Degrees

Master of Arts Degree with Concentration in Literature

Course Requirements

A minimum of 30 credit hours, including L680 or a 700-level seminar. At least one course must be chosen from each of four of the following six fields:

1. Medieval British Literature and Culture
2. Early Modern British Literature and Culture
3. British and/or American Literature and Culture 1640–1830
4. British and/or American Literature and Culture 1800–1900 (including Celtic, Transatlantic, African American)
5. Literatures in English, Twentieth and Twenty-First Centuries (including African American, Hispanic/Latina(o), Asian American, Postcolonial)
6. Literacy, Pedagogy, Composition Theory, Literary Theory, English Language. (International students whose native language is not English must take L500.)

Up to 8 credit hours in graduate courses outside the department may, with the prior approval of the director of graduate studies, be counted toward the degree.

Thesis

Optional; if elected, 4 hours of credit.

Final Examination

None.

Master of Arts Degree with Special Field Concentration

Course Requirements

A minimum of 30 credit hours, including L680 or a 700-level seminar; at least three courses in a single area of concentration to be chosen in consultation with the director of graduate studies (for example, a genre such as the novel, a period such as the Middle Ages, a specialty such as postcolonial studies, American literature and culture, feminist theory, or composition, rhetoric and literacy). Up to 8 credit hours in graduate courses in a related field outside the department may, with the prior approval of the director of graduate studies, be counted toward the degree.

Thesis

Optional (L699: credit arranged; 4 credit hours maximum).

Final Examination

None.

Note: Students wishing to enter the doctoral program on completion of this M.A. must apply for admission. For admission to the Ph.D. program with concentration in literature, candidates must satisfy the distribution requirements for the M.A. in literature.

Master of Arts Degree with Concentration in WritingCourse Requirements

W611–W612 or W613–W614; five departmental courses in literature, literary criticism, or English language. Poets may substitute Comparative Literature C570 Theory and Practice of Translation for one of the five required departmental courses; writers of fiction may substitute Theatre and Drama T453 or T454 Playwriting.

Thesis

Required; the candidate must submit, for 4 hours of credit, a body of creative writing of high literary merit and genuine promise.

Final Examination

None.

Master of Arts Degree with Concentration in LanguageCourse Requirements

A minimum of 30 credit hours, including G500, G780, and at least 12 further credit hours in English language courses, of which at least one course must be selected from G601, G602, G651, and G655.

Thesis

Optional; if elected, 4 hours of credit.

Final Examination

A four-hour written examination. See director of graduate studies for details.

Master of Arts for Teachers DegreePrerequisite

Public-school certification in English. Applicants lacking no more than 6 credit hours for certification may be permitted to complete the certification requirements as part of the degree program.

Course Requirements

A total of 36 credit hours, of which 20 credit hours must be in graduate English courses, including G500, G601, G651, or G655 (at least 12 of these 20 credit hours must be taken on the Bloomington campus); 6 credit hours in graduate education courses, including L516 and one additional advanced curriculum course (recommended: S503 or S530); if a minor is to be professionalized, at least 12 credit hours in the subject area. No undergraduate courses will be counted toward the degree.

Thesis and Final Examination

None.

Master of Fine Arts in Creative Writing

Course Requirements

A total of 60 credit hours, including 16 credit hours of writing workshops (W611–W612 or W613–W614); four courses in literature, culture and language (12–16 hours), at least two of which are on the 600 level or above, from offerings from English, African American and African Diaspora Studies, Comparative Literature, and/or Communication and Culture (courses from other departments to be approved on an individual case basis by the director of creative writing in consultation with the director of graduate studies); and W554; and W664, or W680. Those teaching in W103 Introductory Creative Writing are required to take W554 in their first semester of teaching. Students can take up to 12 credit hours in W699 M.F.A. Thesis. The remaining credit hours are elective. At least 48 credit hours of the degree requirements must be completed in residence.

Thesis

Required; the student must submit, for 4–12 hours of credit, a book-length manuscript.

Dual Master of Arts in English and Master of Library Science Degree

Admission Requirements

Undergraduate major or its equivalent. Graduate Record Examination, both General Test and Subject Test in English Literature. A superior student who has not majored in English may be admitted conditionally, but must remove deficiencies without graduate credit. Admission to each of the two master's programs is approved separately on the same basis as for other applicants not in the dual program.

Foreign Language Requirements

Reading proficiency in one of the following: French German, Greek, Italian, Latin, Russian, Spanish.

Prerequisites

None

Course Requirements

Study for these two degrees can be combined for a total of 54 credit hours rather than the 66 credit hours required for the two degrees taken separately. Students take 24 credit hours in English. All students must fulfill the core requirements as outlined in the English department's Master of Arts with Concentration in Literature or Special Field Master of Arts degree requirements. No thesis or examination is required for the M.A. degree in English. Students take 30 credit hours in library science, including L524; L505 or L520; L528; L509, L643 or L651; L527 or another management course; and L623. The remaining 12 credit hours are electives chosen in consultation with the library science graduate advisor.

Doctor of Philosophy Degrees

Doctor of Philosophy Degree

Admission Requirements

Students are eligible for admission to the Ph.D. programs upon successful completion of the M.A. requirements; additional prerequisites include one course from L502, L506, L605, L607, L608, or, with permission of the director of graduate studies, L707. Students are also required to take at least two additional 700-level seminars.

Periodic Review

Each year the graduate faculty will examine the grades and instructors' reports on all students and will discourage from further work those whose achievements and potential are below standard. Students who fail to maintain a 3.7 GPA or who accumulate three or more grades of Incomplete will be placed on departmental probation.

Minors

Ph.D. students in English may take minors in the following departments and programs: American studies, African American and African Diaspora studies, art history, comparative literature, cultural studies, English and German philology, film studies, folklore, French, gender studies, German, Greek, history, Italian, journalism, Latin, linguistics, medieval studies, performance studies, philosophy, religion, Renaissance studies, Slavics, Spanish, theatre and drama, Victorian studies, and West European studies. Requirements for the minor are set by the minor department.

The Department of English offers the following minors: American literature, British literature, children's literature, pedagogy, creative writing, English and Germanic philology, English language, literary theory, and textual studies. Minors within the department must be approved by the director of graduate studies.

Qualifying Examination

A two-part examination, written and oral. All students choose topics in consultation with their advisory committees. The five-hour written part may be taken at the convenience of the student and his/her advisory committee. The two-hour oral part will be administered as soon as possible after the written part. Details are available from the director of graduate studies. The examination may not be taken until the student has fulfilled the language proficiency requirement. The examination may be repeated once.

Research Proposal

After advancement to candidacy, the student will select a research committee consisting of no fewer than three members of the English department faculty and a representative of the minor. When the director of the research committee has approved the dissertation proposal, the student will formally present it to a meeting of the research committee for comment and approval.

Final Examination

Oral, primarily a defense of the dissertation.

Doctor of Philosophy Degree with Concentration in Literature

Course Requirements

A total of 90 credit hours; students will be required to take 16 credit hours in English beyond the 30 credit hours required for the M.A., and to take at least one course in a fifth distribution field (for a total of course work in five out of the six fields). At least four 700-level seminars in English are required for the Ph.D. Students must also satisfy course requirements for a graduate minor.

Doctor of Philosophy Degree with Concentration in Composition, Literacy, and Culture

Course Requirements

A total of 90 credit hours, including at least 16 credit hours (four courses) beyond the 30 credit hours required for the M.A. degree, to include at least three 700-level departmental seminars. The total must include L502, W605, L705, a course in language/discourse analysis, and a course that brings a strong historical dimension to the study of writing. Information about relevant courses, including those offered by other departments, is available from the chair of the Composition Committee and the student's advisory committee.

Ph.D. Minors

Ph.D. Minor in English and Germanic Philology

Four courses, to include G601 Old English and at least one of the other older Germanic languages; i.e., German G632 Gothic, G635 Old Icelandic, G638 Old High German, G639 Old Saxon, and G640 Middle High German. The remaining courses may be chosen from English G602 Middle English, G655 History of the English Language, L710 Beowulf, L711 Old English Literature; German G532 History of the German Language, and G625 Colloquium in Germanic Linguistics (when the topic is appropriate), G640 Reading Middle High German, G636 Old Icelandic Literature, G835 Seminar in Germanic Linguistics (when the topic is appropriate), and any of the remaining older Germanic languages listed above.

Ph.D. Minor in Feminist Critical Studies

The Minor in Feminist Critical Studies emphasizes feminist criticism and theory. It requires four courses (at least 15 hours of credit), including English L663 Introduction to Feminist Critical Studies and at least one course outside the Department of English; each course must be passed with a grade of B+ (3.3) or higher. Relevant courses include English L605, L700, L707, and L773; Fine Arts A474 and A674; Cultural Studies C601 and C602; Communication and Culture C551 and C604; and Telecommunications T651. Students should consult with the minor advisor in the English department about specific courses of study.

Ph.D. Minor in Literacy Studies

Jointly administered by the Department of English and the School of Education, the minor requires a minimum of four courses, including English L502, Education L630, and two courses selected from an approved list, at least one of which must be outside the English department. For School of Education students, three of the four courses must be outside the student's major area. Students should confer with one of the advisors of the Literacy Studies minor; their names can be obtained from the director of graduate studies.

Ph.D. Minor in Literary Theory

Jointly administered by the Departments of English and Comparative Literature, the minor requires a minimum of three courses, including at least one selected from Comparative Literature C503, C504, C601, or C602; and one from English G660, L605, L607, L608, or L707. Other courses approved for the minor are French and Italian F584 and G560; Germanic Studies G800; Slavic Languages and Literatures R521; Spanish and Portuguese S473 and S512; and Theatre and Drama T555 and T556. Courses other than those listed previously may also be acceptable toward completion of the requirement; written consent to count such courses must be obtained in advance from the graduate advisor in the Department of English or Comparative Literature.

Ph.D. Minor in Literature and Science

The literature and science minor consists of four courses. Two of the four will be Department of English courses from the area of literature and science. One of those English courses will be L769 Literature and Science, the "core" course for the minor. The non-English department courses will come from a relevant science, from the Department of History and Philosophy of Science, or from some other relevant (nonliterary) discipline. The minor will be administered by the director of graduate studies in English, in consultation with the literature and science faculty as necessary.

Graduate Area Certificate in English and Germanic Philology

Also offered is a certificate in English and Germanic philology, requiring four courses in addition to the four required for the minor. These may include any of the courses listed previously, as well as courses in other departments (e.g., linguistics, folklore, classical studies, and anthropology) that are relevant to the history and prehistory of the Germanic languages, and to early Germanic literature and culture. For information about relevant courses, see the graduate advisor in the Department of English.

Courses Offered

500 Level

G500 Introduction to the English Language (4 cr.) An introduction to the English language: its nature, structure, and development.

L500 Introduction to Graduate Study for International Students (4 cr.) The methods and assumptions of graduate study in English and American literature, with special emphasis on classroom participation, the preparation and delivery of reports, and the writing of critical essays based on individual research. Admission must be approved by the departmental advisor for international students.

L501 Professional Scholarship in Literature (4 cr.) Materials, tools, and methods of research.

L502 Contexts for the Study of Writing (2-4 cr.) Historical and cognitive effects of writing, reading, and language use; and the implication of these effects for the teaching and study of literature and writing.

L503 Teaching of Literature in College (2-4 cr.) Classroom teaching of literature in the light of current approaches.

Advancing graduate education. Enhancing the graduate student experience. About. Staff. Diversity. Advisory Boards & Councils. Newsroom. Calendar. To help support graduate students, faculty, and program administrators, the Graduate School has prepared a site with guidance and answers to some frequently asked questions: gradschool.umd.edu/coronavirus. News & Spotlights. News. Spotlights. Announcements. Press Releases. A graduate school (sometimes shortened to grad school) is a school that awards advanced academic degrees (e.g., master's and doctoral degrees) with the general requirement that students must have earned a previous undergraduate (bachelor's) degree. A distinction is typically made between graduate schools (where courses of study vary in the degree to which they provide training for a particular profession) and professional schools, which offer specialized advanced degrees in professional fields such as...
