Karla Faye Tucker was born in Houston, Harris County, Texas on November 18, 1959. Life started out normal enough for the doll-faced little brunette with large almond eyes and a set of dimpled cheeks. By the time she came into the world, the Tuckers already had two daughters, Kari Ann, one year old, and Kathi Lynne, two, and a German shepherd who was child-friendly. Larry, her father, was a longshoreman in the Gulf of Mexico and her mother, Carolyn, a home mom. Set Free is the biography of Karla Faye Tucker, and most importantly, the account of how the grace of God radically changed her life. It briefly looks back at the beginning of her life, but focuses primarily on her life on death row and how God used her to impact so many for the cause of Christ. While it is the story of Karla, it is also the story of how her path crossed with that of the author's and the ministry born from that friendship. The Readability. The 224 pages can be read in 3 The Overview. Set Free is the biography of Karla Faye Tucker, and most importantly, the account of how the grace of God radically changed her life.
