

The 1930s Home

By Greg Stevenson

SHIRE PUBLICATIONS LTD, United Kingdom, 2008. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 204 x 144 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book. The 1930s home presented an exciting new way of living for the generation that moved out to the suburbs. Young couples who had previously rented accommodation in urban centres found themselves able to afford new-build homes with hot running water, a bathroom indoors and even aerials for the wireless already installed. Some four million houses were erected, mostly in cosy semi-detached styles that harked back to traditional cottage architecture. The design elite rejected this Stockbroker Tudor look and opted instead for brave, flat-roofed modernist villas. But whether the house drew on historical references or futuristic ones, interest in interior decoration boomed. This book introduces the homes that people fell in love with in the 1930s, and the fixtures and fittings that went in them. With nearly hundred illustrations and informative chapters on architectural styles, gardens, furnishings and technology in the home, this book is the most popular introductory guide to the houses of the period. It is not only a practical and valuable companion for people who own or wish to renovate an inter-war house but also will appeal to...

New homes were constructed quickly and were produced in a somewhat repetitive fashion, with very little distinguishing traits in design or style. Despite the somewhat homogenised, boxy shaped approach, homes still had a specific style that developed during the 1930s. This can be emulated even today as part of refurbishment or restoration projects. Weâ€™ll give you a quick guide to restyling your home, whether you simply wish to copy the 1930s style, or your home was built in the period. Looking for a 1930s door for your property? We design and make 1930s style front doors. Our period door designs are thoroughly researched, so theyâ€™re true to the era. Our doors are specially designed to match the charm and character of your property.

1930s. More than 4 million homes were built between 1919 and 1939. People moved to the new suburbs in droves, where they could purchase their dream homes. The introduction of hire purchase meant people could equip their homes with the latest looks. In this article. Style. Seating - the three-piece suite is a 1930s invention.
